

CURRICULUM VITAE

Edward M Beadle MD, FACOG

Education:

Bloomington Lincoln High School 1970

Honors and Activities

National Honor Society

American Legion Citizenship Award Bloomington

Minnesota Achievement Scholarship First

National Bank Award

President-Bloomington Youth Council

Presidential Youth Commendation

Varsity Athletics

Eagle Scout Award

Gustavus Adolphus College 1970-1974

Bachelor of Science

Magna Cum Laude

Honors and Activities

National Science Foundation Research Fellowship

CURRICULUM VITAE

Edward M Beadle M D, FACOG

Sigma Xi Research Fellowship

Chemistry Research Achievement Award

Academic Dean List- 4 Years

Iota Delta Gamma Honor Society

Epsilon Pi Alpha Fraternity

Inter-fraternity Senate

University of Minnesota School of Medicine 1974-1978

University of Minnesota Department of Obstetrics
And Gynecology 1978-1982

Board Certification

National Board Of Medicine Part 1 -1976

National Board of Medicine Part 2 -1978

National Board of Medicine Part 3- 1979

American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology

Written exam 1982

Oral exam 1984

Employment Experience

1972 National Science Foundation Fellowship

Iowa State University

1973-1974 Surgical Lab technician and Research Fellow

Minneapolis Veterans Hospital

1978-1982 University of Minnesota Hospitals- Residency

Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology

1982-2001 John Haugen Associates, Private Practice

2002-2014 Minnesota Gynecology and Surgery, Private Practice

2014-2021 Fairview Center for Women , Retired

CURRICULUM VITAE
Edward M Beadle MD, FACOG

Bibliography:

1. Binding of copper, nickel zinc and cobalt by 3-carboxymethyl-thiosene, Journal of American Chemical Society, 96, 719 (1974)
2. Pretreatment with methyltirazine on overriding lateral hypothalamic Syndrome. Undergraduate Research Symoisium, Gustavus Adolphus Press, (1974)
3. Porcine heterografts in Pregnancy. American Heart Journal, 98, 4, (1979)
4. Subtotal versus Total hysterectomy at the time of cesarean section. Central Association of Obstetric and Gynecology, 1984.
5. Complications of Laparoscopy, Chapter 7, Laparoscopic Abdominal Surgery McGraw Hill, 1993.
6. Laparoscopic Burch Bladder Suspension, Journal of Laparoscopic Surgery, January 1994
7. Complications of Laparoscopic Burch Bladder Suspension, Chapter 5, Complications of Laparoscopy and Hysteroscopy, 2nd Edition, Blackwell Science, 1997.
8. Laparoscopic Appendectomy-Avoiding complications, Chapter 37, Complications of Laparoscopy and Hysteroscopy, 2nd Edition, 1997

CURRICULUM VITAE
Edward M Beadle MD, FACOG

Leadership Positions:

1982-2006 Clinical Associate Professor, University of Minnesota

1988-1989 Chief-Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology,
Abbott Northwestern Hospital

1989-1995 Board of Directors, Minnesota State Ob-Gyn Society

1994 President, Minnesota State Ob-Gyn Society

1986-1997 Course Director, Basic and Advanced Lasers in Gynecology, Abbott Northwestern Hospital

1990-1994 Course Director-Advanced Laparoscopic Surgery
Caduceus Seminars, Atlanta Georgia

1991-1994 Course Faculty, Advanced Laparoscopy, Medical Colloquia, Phoenix Arizona

1995-1996 Editorial Board Minnesota Medicine

1998 Board of Directors, Minnesota Alumni Association

1998 Treasurer, Abbott Northwestern Hospital

1995-2001 President, John Haugen Associates

2002-2014 President, Minnesota Gynecology and Surgery

Special Interests: Minimally Invasive Laparoscopic Surgery, Infertility,
Tubal reversal surgery, Treatment of endometriosis,
Treatment of urinary incontinence.